

ABOUT JENNY

Jenny has a passion for teaching and has extensive experience both in the classroom and in a one-to-one setting. Jenny completed her undergraduate education at the University of Michigan where she studied Communications and graduated with honors. She then completed a dual Master's in Childhood and Special Education at New York University's Steinhardt School of Education and was inducted into Kappa Delta Pi, the International Honor Society in Education.

Upon graduation, Jenny taught at PS 158, on Manhattan's Upper East Side, for 13 years, both as a classroom teacher, as well as an academic interventionist. She supervised and mentored new teachers, student teachers, and literacy interns. Jenny also taught at Yorkville East Middle School. Here she taught and mentored English Language Arts and Special Education teachers, working with them on best teaching practices in order to help meet their students' learning needs. Additionally, Jenny is experienced in supporting older students with organizational and executive functioning skills.

degrees & certifications:

- Bachelor of Arts in Communication Studies
- Master of Arts in Childhood Education (grades 1-6)
- Master of Arts in Special Education
- New York State Certification, Childhood Education (grades 1-6), Students with Disabilities

specialty training:

- Elementary Writing Institute (Grades 3-5), Columbia Teacher's College
- Elementary Reading Institute (Grades 3-5), Columbia Teacher's College
- Mathematics in the City Institute
- Goldmansour and Rutherford Workshops on inclusion education