

ABOUT SARA

Sara has been an educator for over 20 years. In 1999 she graduated Cum Laude from Drew University with a degree in Behavioral Sciences. She worked for a number of years for a Boston-based company, Talbots. In late 2003, she decided to pursue a Masters of Education at Kean University where she graduated, with honors, in 2006 as part of the Educational Honor Society, Kappa Delta Phi.

Sara is a Responsive Classroom trained educator who brings her knowledge of childhood development to her tutoring sessions. She is passionate about believing that all children should be successful no matter the current obstacles. She is currently a Third Grade Language Arts teacher in the South Orange Maplewood School District.

degrees & certifications:

- Bachelor of Arts in Behavioral Sciences
- Master of Arts in Elementary Education
- New Jersey Certification in Elementary Education (grades K-5)

specialty training:

- Elementary Writing Institute, Columbia Teachers College
- Elementary Reading Institute, Columbia Teachers College
- Responsive Classroom Trained