

ABOUT SARAH

Sarah is a respected early childhood teacher who takes a personal interest in the success of students. She believes age-appropriate instruction, utilizing various instructional strategies and technology, are key to a student's success. She graduated with honors from New England College with a degree in Elementary Education. Shortly after, Sarah received her Master's Degree from Fordham University, obtaining her teaching certificate in Early Childhood and Special Education. While at Fordham, Sarah was inducted into the National Honors Society, Kappa Delta Pi.

Sarah taught First Grade for 6 years at a small private school in New York City. Once her family grew, they moved to New Jersey, where Sarah began teaching Kindergarten in the South Orange-Maplewood School District. While in the district, Sarah was the General Education teacher in an Inclusion Classroom and gained a vast amount of knowledge and experience with children with Autism, ADHD and Oppositional Defiant Disorder. Sarah currently teaches at Weekday School in South Orange, NJ. Sarah has privately tutored students ranging from Pre-K through Third Grade.

degrees & certifications:

- Bachelor of Arts in Education, New England College
- Master's of Science in Education, Fordham University
- State of New Jersey Pre-Kindergarten -3rd Grade Certification
- State of New Jersey Students with Disabilities K-5 Certification
- State of New York Early Childhood Certification
- State of New York Special Education Certification

specialty training:

- Teachers College Reading, Writing and Phonics curriculum
- Foundations curriculum
- Math in Focus curriculum